RULES & REGULATIONS.

REFERENCE DEPARTMENT.

1.—The Reference Library is open daily from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m., excepting Sundays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, and upon any other occasion when the Committee may so direct. On Tuesdays it is open from 9-30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

2.—Persons under 16 years of age are not admitted into the Reference Library except by special permission of the Librarian.

3.—Any person giving a false name and address will be liable to legal proceedings.

4.—No person may take any book from the Library shelves, or enter any places in the Library other than those devoted to readers generally, except by special permission from the Librarian.

5.—It is expressly forbidden to remove from the Reference Library any book, map, manuscript or other article belonging thereto, or to write or make any marks upon the same.

6.—The use of ink for copying extracts is not permitted, and tracing is strictly forbidden, as it causes injury to the illustrations. Readers are particularly requested not to soil or injure the works used; in copying extracts care must be observed so that no injury may be done to the books. The Librarian may stop any act which he thinks calculated to cause injury to any book, plate, or work.

Kenyon (Lloyd, fourth Baron Kenyon.) Historical Manuscripts Commission. Fourteenth Report. The Manuscripts of Lord Kenyon [vol. 49.]8vo. Lond. 1894

“The mss. in the possession of Lord Kenyon, at Gredlington Hall, may be said to relate chiefly to Lancashire, in which county the Kenyon family has been settled from very early times. A curious account, dated in 1524, of a miracle performed near Doncaster, and ten letters dating somewhat later in the 16th century, interesting as being illustrative of domestic life and feeling, belonged to and are connected with the Radcliffes and ffaringtons. The spelling in these letters gives an idea of the local pronunciation, and bears a striking resemblance to that found in Scotch writings. The papers relating actually to county affairs in Lancashire, begin with the 17th century, being those preserved by Alexander Rigby, then Clerk of the Peace, and by his descendants, one of whom, Alice Rigby, the heiress of George Rigby, also Clerk of the Peace, married Roger Kenyon, and brought into the Kenyon family the property at Peel in Lancashire. Without instancing individual documents, it may be observed that from the commencement of the 17th century, there are in Lord Kenyon's mss. valuable materials for a history of Lancashire—ecclesiastical, political, and social, beside much useful matter for the compilation of the personal history of many Lancashire families, especially those which had their origin in or around Liverpool, Manchester, and Wigan.” Extract from the introduction by W. G. Hardy. Reference to the Index, pp. 695-6 will disclose numerous particulars relating to Wigan and Wigan families.

“In giving me this Lord Crawford writes—‘The Index rerum et nominum, to which there is no title-page, is merely a string of subjects or entries which will eventually form the index to the Contributions to the Ephemeral History of England. This catalogue will consist of Tracts, or pamphlets, Proclamations, Broadside, Political Squibs and Poems, and Ballads proper. The skeleton of the index is taken from ‘Lemon’s Index,’ but a vast number of other entries have to be entered into it. To facilitate the making of these entries I printed 10 copies in /86. C.’—[Signed] Brabourne, Jan. 10th, 1888. Haigh Hall.” The above communication is written on the first blank page in the book.
